

Job title static

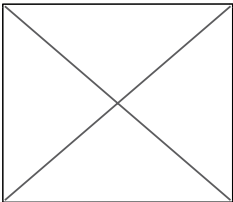

Anna Janiak is a software engineer with 5 years of experience in the field of web development. She has worked for several companies, including a startup and a large corporation. She is passionate about learning new technologies and improving her skills. She is currently looking for a new challenge and is open to opportunities in the tech industry.

Anna Janiak is a software engineer with 5 years of experience in the field of web development. She has worked for several companies, including a startup and a large corporation. She is passionate about learning new technologies and improving her skills. She is currently looking for a new challenge and is open to opportunities in the tech industry.

Anna Janiak is a software engineer with 5 years of experience in the field of web development. She has worked for several companies, including a startup and a large corporation. She is passionate about learning new technologies and improving her skills. She is currently looking for a new challenge and is open to opportunities in the tech industry.

FRONT END AND TESTING

Anna Janiak is a software engineer with 5 years of experience in the field of web development. She has worked for several companies, including a startup and a large corporation. She is passionate about learning new technologies and improving her skills. She is currently looking for a new challenge and is open to opportunities in the tech industry.

BACK END AND REQUIREMENTS

Anna Janiak is a software engineer with 5 years of experience in the field of web development. She has worked for several companies, including a startup and a large corporation. She is passionate about learning new technologies and improving her skills. She is currently looking for a new challenge and is open to opportunities in the tech industry.

SCRUM & KANBAN

Anna Janiak is a software engineer with 5 years of experience in the field of web development. She has worked for several companies, including a startup and a large corporation. She is passionate about learning new technologies and improving her skills. She is currently looking for a new challenge and is open to opportunities in the tech industry.

SAFE

Anna Janiak is a software engineer with 5 years of experience in the field of web development. She has worked for several companies, including a startup and a large corporation. She is passionate about learning new technologies and improving her skills. She is currently looking for a new challenge and is open to opportunities in the tech industry.

Get in touch

Contact me!

CV/pdf

CONTACT FORM